

Not currently enrolled. Learn more about content access

Throughout this lesson, you'll apply your knowledge of neural networks on real datasets using TensorFlow \(link for China\), an open source Deep Learning library created by Google.

You'll use TensorFlow to classify images from the notMNIST dataset - a dataset of images of English letters from A to J. You can see a few example images below.

